

November Social Snap Shot

Recently a lot of my friends have asked me what my favorite piece of gear is, usually I don't give an answer, but I figured tonight I'll answer that question as well as give a review. The Rothco Plate Carrier. At first I was skeptical about it due to the low price but then decided to take the gamble. So I spent $68 and got it 5 days later. I torture test it every chance I get. Getting it filthy, putting ridiculous amounts of weight in it, getting it soaked, etc. It has held up better than I ever would have thought I've put 30 lbs of weight in it and walked miles. I've had the straps of a 90 pound ruck push down on the buckles and they didn't even crack. I'm constantly switching out the patches and the Velcro is fine. Overall this is an outstanding Plate Carrier and I would recommend it for anyone.

Have your ACU cross draw vest, 2 black plate carriers, and 2 black battle belts, couple pair of tactile pants. Love all of it.

Hi ROTHCO!

I am French and I just discovered your brand. I really loved your bags and clothes and I just noticed that there is no delivery in Europe. Do you know if there is any store in Paris or any online company retailing your gears ?

Thanks a lot
